

Seminar for FEALAC Young Diplomats

Background and Objectives: Entrusted by Ministry of Commerce and Ministry of Foreign Affairs of China, China Foreign Affairs University will organize the 2015 Seminar for Young Diplomats from East Asian and Latin American Countries. The seminar aims to help the participants to hold a better understanding of China's national conditions and policies, while equip the participants with higher effectiveness in China-related work, and promote bilateral communication and cooperation among China , East Asian and Latin American Countries

Time Frame: April, 2015. The time and duration of the seminar was finalized by the Ministry of Commerce of China.

April to September 2015. Participants are to sign up for the seminar through the Economic and Commercial Section of the Chinese Embassy while China Foreign Affairs University prepares for the seminar, including arranging lectures and study tours.

September 10th to September 23rd, 2015. The 2015 seminar for Young Diplomats from East Asian and Latin American Countries will be organized in China. Participants are suggested to arrive in Beijing on September 9th, and leave Beijing on September 24th.

Monitoring & Evaluation: China Foreign Affairs University monitors participants throughout the seminar. Near the end of the seminar, the University will evaluate all participants according to their performance during the seminar and write reports for each participants. Meanwhile, all participants are required to fill out the evaluation form for their suggestions for the seminar. China Foreign Affairs University also contacts participants after the seminar to track their latest developments and achievements.

Project Contact Point:

Name: Chen Meng

Title: Program Coordinator, Foreign Affairs Office, China Foreign Affairs University

Institution: China Foreign Affairs University

Email: chenmeng@cfau.edu.cn

Telephone/Fax :0086-10-68323341/0086-10-68323243